Dear Dan:

Since the dismissal of Pierre Lamont Pritchett for a violation of Youth Protection policies several other incidents have been related to me by members of the Camp Powhatan staff. In response to your request, here is an outline of what I know of Mr. Pritchett's conduct as it relates to the BSA's Youth Protection guidelines.

Mr. Pritchett, also known as "Pee-Wee," was fired from employment as a staff member at Camp Powhatan on Sunday, June 30, 1991. He had returned from his Saturday night off about 2:00 a.m. on Sunday morning with David Hudson, [REDACTED], and Keith Martin. I was still in my office, writing, when they entered. After some conversation, Mr. Pritchett said that his bedding had gotten wet in a rainstorm and asked me if he could stay with [REDACTED]. Mr. Pritchett is 18 and Mr. [REDACTED] is 17 years old. I told him "No!" emphatically, and reminded him of the training he had received in the Youth Protection guidelines.

After daybreak, at about 11:00 a.m., Mr. [REDACTED] came to me and reported that, in spite of my instructions to the contrary, "Pee-Wee" had gone to [REDACTED] tent and slept on the floorboards. [REDACTED] said that he woke around 6:00 a.m. and moved his hand to his crotch and was shocked to find Mr. Pritchett's hand there as well. He said that he opened his eyes and saw "Pee-Wee" with his chin on the edge of the bed staring at his ([REDACTED]) face. According to [REDACTED], "Pee-Wee" then closed his eyes and very slowly - over the course of many minutes - moved off the bed as if moving in his sleep.

After informing you and having [REDACTED] repeat his account to you, I then interviewed Mr. Pritchett with the camp Program Director, Jason Williams, taking notes. "Pee-Wee" initially denied - twice - having slept in [REDACTED] tent, saying admitted to every detail of [REDACTED] account except to the charge that he had put his hand on [REDACTED] crotch. He said that he had indeed slept in [REDACTED] tent, making his bed on the floorboards. He said that he did not have a pillow and had put his head and arms on the edge of [REDACTED] bunk in order to use his mattress as a pillow. He denied placing his hand on [REDACTED] crotch.

Once he admitted to staying in [REDACTED] tent, "Pee-Wee" seemed quite crestfallen and said "All right, Jeff, you've got me. What are you going to do?" Both Jason and I noticed that he became quite listless for the rest of interview, staring at the floor while giving his answers - quite atypical for "Pee-Wee." He did not protest his dismissal.

Mr. Pritchett and Mr. [REDACTED] had been good friends. I had observed no friction between them either on the morning in question or before. According to both Keith Martin, the Aquatics Director, and David Hudson, the International Scout, Pritchett and [REDACTED] had not quarreled on their night off. Mr. Pritchett was fired for violating the BSA's Youth Protection Policies (sleeping alone with a minor) and for disobeying a direct order to follow the Youth Protection guidelines and not stay with [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] was visibly embarrassed and shaken when he gave his story to me. It was very much out of character for [REDACTED] to speak to the Camp Director with an accusation about anyone for any reason. Also, the height of our camp bunks would make it extremely difficult for anyone to sleep on the floorboards of a tent and comfortably use a mattress on a bunk as a pillow. I believe it is unlikely that [REDACTED] invented any part of his story.

Several days after Pritchett's dismissal, [REDACTED] told me that "Pee-Wee" had "flashed" him in 1990 with a full frontal nude view in [REDACTED] tent. He said that Mr. Pritchett had claimed that he was going to "moon" him and that [REDACTED] looked too soon. John Futrell, a Commissioner, reported that on a Wilderness Survival Overnighter Mr. Pritchett had been found asleep at dawn with his arm around a sleeping Scout.

In August I heard rumors of another incident from my brother, Robert "Pete" Peters, who served as Shooting Sports Director from 1988 to 1990 and as a volunteer in camp in 1991. He said that he had heard that "Pee-Wee" had been found in a sleeping bag with a CIT in staff camp in 1990. "Pete" thought that this was one of the reasons I fired "Pee-Wee."

After Labor Day, I asked Patty Hogan, 1991 Trading Post Manager, about the rumor and was surprised to hear her reply, "Oh yeah. I thought that was one of the reasons you fired him. We all heard that. I thought you knew about it." I informed you and you asked me to find out if the story was camp rumor or fact.

I talked to many of the older 1990 staff members. Most had heard only what Patty had told me. Some thought that the story was true and that 14 year old CIT [REDACTED] of Troop 188 in Galax was the other Scout involved. The 1990 Camp Director, Mike Glasgow, said that he had not even been told of the rumor. When I called the 1990 Program Director, David Kranyik, his response was: "Oh yeah, it's true. I caught them." One of the Program Director's duties is to wake up the staff every morning. Kranyik says that he discovered Mr. Pritchett and [REDACTED] asleep in the same sleeping bag one morning during the second or third week of camp in 1990. He said that he thinks they were clothed - at least in shirts - and that he said to them "What the --- are you doing? Get the --- out of bed!" before moving on to wake the occupants of the next tent. He did not think to report the incident. He says that he was half asleep and did not realize the seriousness of the situation at the time. Kranyik also says that this was the only incident that he knows of.

According to David, he remembered the incident when he heard that I had fired "Pee-Wee" for a Youth Protection violation this year. He did not say if he had told anyone "off the record" in 1990, but he apparently told several people this year. He seemed embarrassed that he had not reported the incident. I asked him to provide us with a written statement and he said that he will do so.

David Kranyik worked for me in 1988 and 1989. I do not believe that he fabricated this story, especially since it damages his reputation. Also, it would be very much in character for David to "sleepwalk" through staff camp early in the morning and ignore such an incident.

I will forward Kranyik's statement when I receive it.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey L. Peters

Minutes

Regional Review Hearing
Pierre L. Pritchett

The Regional Review meeting was held September 27, 1991, at the Omni Richmond Hotel, Richmond, Virginia. Present were: Hugh Riley, Chairman; Pete Janson; C.S. Clardy, Jr.; James D. Wilson; and Paul Moore.

The committee reviewed all documents related to this membership denial.

The committee examined the violation of the youth protection policy, discussed several inconsistencies in the documents, and the fact that some aspects of the documentation process were not as thoroughly complete as desirable.

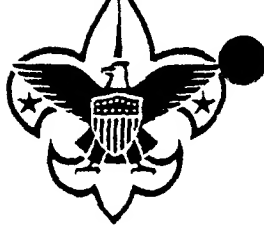

The committee did not see any evidence that there was any attempt to unfairly accuse Pritchett. Whether there was any sexual contact was not clear, but the youth protection policy was clearly violated by Pritchett even after he had been reminded of it by the camp director.

The committee concluded that they had seen no information which would cause them to recommend rescinding the action of the local council.

Respectfully submitted,

Paul R. Moore
Area Eight Director

Sept. 16, 1991

Gentlemen,

On July 24, 1991, I received a letter from my Scout Executive, Dan Clifton, notifying me that my registration with the Boy Scouts of America had been denied. I ask for a review of that decision: the appeal process allows me 60 days to respond.

On June 30, 1991, I was a commissioner at camp Powhatan's staff. I returned to camp from my night off at 2:00 a.m. in a heavy rainstorm. My tent flaps were open and my cot and clothes were wet. I wanted to spend the night with [REDACTED]. I talked to Jeff Peters, the Camp Director, about my problem. He said that I could not stay with [REDACTED] because of the Youth Protection Policy. [REDACTED] is 17, and I am 18. I asked if I could sleep in my car. Jeff again said, "No!" He said that I could stay in Hiwassee campsite. It was raining hard and the campsite was at least a quarter mile away. I asked [REDACTED] if I could stay with him, using his pile of clothes on the floor as a pillow. I was in bed by 4:30 a.m. and up again by 5:30. I took a shower at 6:00, changed clothes in my tent at 6:30 and at 7:00 went to McDonalds with Keith Martins.

Jeff Peters called me into the camp office before lunch, and asked where I spent the night. I admitted to staying with [REDACTED]. He accused me of laying my hand on [REDACTED] stomach and putting my head on his bed. I said that I didn't do it. I was fired for spending the night with a staff member under age 18.

In my sleep, I trash around alot and talk aloud. Keith Martins will tell you that. I understand that I was fired because I did not follow the orders of the Camp Director. I don't understand why I got a letter from Mr. Clifton kicking me out of the Boy Scouts. I did not do anything wrong with [REDACTED].

Please review my case and tell me what I did that was so bad. There were two other staff members in the tent next to me who were 17 and 18 and they were not even fired. I don't understand

Dear Mr. Pritchett

After careful review, we have decided that your registration with the Boy Scouts of America should be denied. We are therefore compelled to request that you sever any relations that you may have with the Boy Scouts of America. A refund of your registration is enclosed.

You should understand that BSA membership registration is a privilege and is not automatically granted to everyone who applies. We reserve the right to refuse registration whenever there is concern that an individual may not meet the high standards of membership which the BSA seeks.

If you wish to have this decision reviewed by a BSA regional review committee, please write to the regional director within 60 days of the date of this letter, explaining your version of the facts supporting your claim that your registration as a BSA member should be granted. The procedures for a review of this decision are attached.

Jeff Peters, interviewing [REDACTED]:

[REDACTED] asked to see me just before 11:30 a.m., June 30, 1991. He said that he had left my office about 2:30 a.m. that morning (along with David Hudson and Pierre Lamont Pritchett) and returned to his tent to find Pierre Lamont Pritchett's sleeping bag on the floor. [REDACTED], Pierre, David Hudson and others had just returned from their Saturday night off. They had gone to Macado's in Radford. When they returned to camp (at 2:00 a.m.) they had come to my office (I was still working) and chatted for about 1/2 an hour. Mr. Pritchett told me during the conversation that his tent was wet and that he wanted to sleep in [REDACTED] tent. Pritchett is 19, [REDACTED] is 17. I told him in front of [REDACTED] and Hudson, "NO" and explained why.

According to [REDACTED], Pritchett spent the night in [REDACTED] tent anyway. [REDACTED] also stated that he woke up very early in the morning and reached down to his crotch and discovered ANOTHER (!) hand there—Pierre Pritchett's hand. He says that he opened his eyes and that Pierre Pritchett had his chin resting on the side of his bed staring at [REDACTED]'s face and his (Pierre's) hand on the crease between [REDACTED] his and crotch. [REDACTED] stated that Pritchett closed his eyes and proceeded to slide back down to the floor very slowly over the course of 20 minutes to 1/2 an hour. [REDACTED] said that the two had been friends and that he was shocked and just lay there. He also said that during the previous summer, Pritchett "flashed" him with a full frontal view and explained that he was going to "moon" him and that [REDACTED] had looked too soon.

After reaffirming these statements for Jeff Peters and Dan Clifton, [REDACTED] was sent back to the dining hall and I summoned Mr. Pritchett.

[redacted] said that the two had been friends and that he was shocked & just lay there. He also said that during the previous summer, Pritchett "flashed" him with a full frontal view and explained that he was going to "moon" him ~~that~~ and that [redacted] had looked too soon.

for J. Peters & Dan Cliffe

After reconfirming these statements, [redacted] was sent back to the Dining Hall and I summoned Mr. Pritchett.

SSN: [REDACTED]

DOB: 10-1-72

Age: 19

SUNDAY, JUNE 30, 1991, 11:45 A.M.

Jeff Peters interviewing Pierre Lamont Pritchett with Jason Williams as a witness.

I asked Mr. Pritchett where he slept Saturday night. He replied, "In my car," twice, and then admitted he had spent the night in [REDACTED] tent.

I asked him if he had put his hand on Mr. [REDACTED] crotch and he denied it, although he did admit having his chin on the bed. He had been sleeping on the floor (platform) and claimed that he was using [REDACTED] bed as a pillow.

I have known Mr. Pritchett for 4 years and he is normally very forthright and forceful when he is arguing his case with his director in camp. In this case, however, his denials were very half-hearted and both myself and Jason Williams thought this was unusual and not attributable to physical fatigue. I pointed out to Mr. Pritchett-and he remembered and agreed- that I had specifically told him NOT to stay in [REDACTED] tent that very morning when they had come in from their day off at 2:00 a.m. Mr. Pritchett's only excuse was that his bedding was wet, but he agreed that I had already rejected that excuse when I told him NOT to stay in [REDACTED] tent at 2:00 a.m.

I then told Mr. Pritchett that his employment was terminated immediately for reasons:

1. He violated the BSA's youth protection policies by a) staying in a tent with a 17 year old (Mr. Pritchett is 19 years old) and b) allegedly putting his hand on [REDACTED] crotch.
2. Directly and knowingly violating the Camp Director's orders a) that very morning and b) during Youth Protection Training in staff week, NOT to stay with underage (under 18) staff members.
